The October 1997 Bi Annual "Not so DX-pedition and Survival Test

The weekend was October 10th, 11th and 12th. The place was El Mirage Dry Lake in the desert south of Edwards Air Base and west of Victorville. The weather on Friday morning was great and the first contingent of communicators arrived at the site on the dry lake bed at about 0900 local. This was Art-KE6WOX, Larry-K6LDC and Don (a non-licensed guest). The three went immediately into action putting up the antennas that would start the festivities. The temperature was warm, there was a breeze and nothing could be better, or so they thought. At about 11 A.M. the wind came howling along. The antennas held up. They consisted of a 40 meter inverted V and a 6 meter rhombic as well as a 6 meter vertical with ground plane.

Many contacts were made on 40 to local and the usual Pacific west stations. Try as they might, the antennas just wouldn't load on other bands using the automatic tuner in LDC's FT-920.

About 3 or 4 PM the Prez, Frank WA6VKZ arrived and soon after came his friend John, N6RIU (I think! I can't remember calls or names). These two showed up in their mighty silver Airstreams. Soon after came Steve, KE6NAH. That evening we had a group pot-luck dinner with John hosting in his 36 foot trailer. Lots of war stories, jokes, food and beverages prior to staggering through the howling wind to our sleeping facilities. The temperature had dropped to the low forties; it was colder than a well digger's behind in the arctic. NAH forgot his sleeping bag and it was too windy to try for a tent so NAH, WOX, LDC and guest Don slept in LDC's rig (nice and toasty, with all the comforts of home).

On Saturday morning, Larry, K6VDP showed up with his trusty ICOM and an older model Harvey-Wells antenna tuner. That made a difference with LDC's rig and some communicating on higher frequencies took place. Very little DX was worked; LDC worked Japan and Guadalajara, Mexico. The DX may not have been great, but the noise level was non-existent for all intents and purposes.

WOX, LDC and VDP tried numerous antennas that VKZ had brought. We had very little luck tuning them, but it was a lot of fun trying. The wind was horrendous all day, hampering efforts to make antenna adjustments.

Saturday night was very

much like Friday night, but much colder. We again had dinner in John's rig. The only one big enough to accommodate all of us. Don't you just hate this roughing it?

About 2 AM the LDC rig was roused out of bed with the alarm being sounded by WOX that it was raining. Oh boy! If it rains hard and long the dry lake won't be dry. Now the decision, do we stay on the lake or do we remove all the antennas and pull the rigs off of the lake bed and onto the sandy loam of the desert? We all remained cool and decided that it wasn't raining hard enough yet and we would wake up in an hour or two and make the decision. It was LDC Roughing it in the cold and windy desert.

The rain stopped and it was so windy that by morning all the moisture had evaporated, there was no evidence of the rain and all the antennas were remaining in the up position. We did something right!

Sunday morning with the entire crew plus pooch

Sunday morning signaled that it was time to take down the antennas, pack the gear and head for home. I truly was a great trip. The adversity made it more fun in retrospect. Everyone had a good time, especially the pooch.
